Of course if you have a preference or dislike for certain colors, just mention it, and I'll act accordingly. If after blooming time you are not satisfied and pleased in every way, the purchase price will be refunded and no questions asked. Cultural directions accompany each order.

THRIP AND ITS CONTROL

Two essential factors enter into the control of Thrips—the planting of clean or Thrip free bulbs and proper spraying, and the following suggestions are offered. Use caution when digging bulbs of thrip infested plants to prevent Thrips from spreading from plants to bulbs. Cure in warm dry, airy place, remove old bulbs and roots and store in a cool storage at a temperature from 35° to 50° F. If there is any sign of Thrip on bulbs effort should be made to rid the Thrip from bulbs in storage. This can be accomplished by scattering Napthalene flakes at the rate of 1½ handful to 100 large bulbs and cover containers holding bulbs with newspaper or cloth. During the period of cool storage Thrip remains inactive but do not always die out therefore just before planting time it is wise to soak the bulbs with Corrosive Sublimate (1000 to 1) or 1 oz. to 7½ gals. of water using wooden or earthenware containers for a period of 6 to 12 hrs. Ordinary Household Lye, 1 lb. to 25 gals. of water soaking overnight is also effective.

Thrip on the growing plants can be detected by light lines or whitish streaks appearing on the leaves. It is well to commence spraying early, when foliage is about a foot high and to keep the foliage covered until plants begin to bloom. I used the following spray successfully last season. Black leaf 40, Arsenate of Lead and molasses as recommended for potatoes. The idea being to use the Black Leaf as a contact spray and the Arsenate as a poison making it more palatable with the molasses. However, Cubor, Tona-cide, Derrisol are recommended as being effective also. In small gardens, spraying the plants with the garden hose twice a week has kept the Thrip down. Use plenty of force and play the hose right on the plants which seems to drown out the Thrip. Thrips are warmth loving insects and increase rapidly during hot, dry spells. Spraying is also most effective during warm sunny days as they will be then found on the foliage feeding in the greatest numbers. Urge your neighbors to soak their bulbs and spray the plants if there is any signs of Thrip infestation, and I am sure fine blooms will be the result.
